Notes from the producer:

This second release of Terriscope brings us on the right bank of the Marne Valley, on the opposite to our family vineyards that are all located on the left bank. This is the reason for calling it « Rive Droite », « Right Bank ». Made of pure Meunier from Montigny-sous-Chatillon village, facing our village of Cerseuil. It is a blend of 90% of 2020 harvest and 10% of 2019. Bottled in April 2021, the first disgorgement was done at our estate in April 2023, with a dosage of 1.1 gr/l (Extra Brut). Rive Droite is a great expression of Meunier, vibrant, very well balanced, with a great vivacity.

As is typical for the Champagne region, our domaine has lots of small, separate plots, including at least 42 vineyards divided between the villages of Mareuil-le-Port, Oeuilly and Troissy. We have a wide variety of exposures, geology and grape varieties. Our vines are planted at many different altitudes and have a wide range of ages. This creates many nuances which express themselves in our different wines.

Jérôme Dehours runs the estate, which was founded by his grandfather in 1930. Jérôme's father had developed a negociant business during the 80's. In 1996, Jérôme Dehours stopped this activity to focus on the vineyard. This marked a complete reset of the company (stock, material, clients,...) with an emphasis on the Terroir identity, together with more respectful and healthy practices (for both the environment and human beings).

WineWise Notes on Producer:

First of all is Jérôme Dehours himself, a debonair, slow-talking man of exceptional lucidity and passion. To get a sense of his uniqueness, you can read the remarkable manifesto he publishes about his enterprise which describes every aspect of his work, down to the brand and engine size of his tractors. He took over the domaine in 1999 and started a conversion to organic viticulture, which is now complete. The domaine consists of 42 parcels, all within close reach of the winery. Dehours was the first producer in Champagne to offer “vins parcelaires” emanating from their lieux dits – a now commonplace practice. Total production is typically 70-80,000 bottles a year, all of which are held back for an above-average period before release to the market. (A superlative late-released 2003 from that most unfashionable vintage was the single most stunning wine tasted on a recent tour). The wines are not filtered or fined, all enjoy a passage through wood, and they are allowed to go through malolactic fermentation naturally in the spring. The yeasts used are indigenous, but Dehours makes their own cocktail of the best. Jérôme likes to employ the tailles, so often sold off by other producers, feeling that they impart useful and attractive qualities to the finished wines. Certainly, the prevailing cashmere elegance of his range is testimony to the fastidious care with which he works – a fact recognized by an adulatory press in France and important customers among the big houses who ask him to press their grapes for them. We count ourselves lucky indeed to have this important agency in our portfolio.
